EDITORS NOTE

Due to the Daily Mails recent hit piece on NBU and their desperate attempt to link us with extremism I have decided to revert our structure back to its original form. The term 'cell' will be dropped as it now been made to conjure up images of terrorism due to the press referring to sinister and shadowy groups.

Cells will be replaced by Units each with a unit leader and contact details on our website, the first of these will be NBU Blackpool, its unit leader is happy to design logos for other units. Absolutely nothing secret or sinister about that.

NBU has nothing to hide from the general public.

Unit leaders can remain anonymous only NBU will have their contact details to send messages on to.

So lets get building contact us with your village town or city and get the ball rolling towards a NBU representative in every area of Britain by Christmas.

NATIONAL SERVICE?

Penny Mordaunt passed a plan to enrol all 16-year-olds in a National Service scheme.

The idea, proposed by think tank Onward, would send teens on a two-week 'civic exploration' vacation and require them to volunteer.

In an article for the Telegraph, the House of Commons leader welcomed the concept, saying it would encourage "goodwill and community spirit, energy and imagination" in teenagers.

She also stated that it might encourage "good mental health and resilience" after the Covid disaster shook young people's lives.

Although kids would be automatically enrolled in the scheme, they would have the option to opt out.

Should the plan go ahead, more than 600,000 young people could take part.

Ms Mordaunt added that there is nothing "more rewarding than serving your community and nation".

"No one is more effective at helping others than a willing volunteer," she said.

"Many young people are struggling with their mental health, to find purpose, and feel a sense of belonging.

"Stepping forward to help others could be part of the answer. Service can help build the resilience, skills, and pride in their community and country that many need."

BANKRUPTCY

It has been revealed that a third of councils in some of England's poorest communities are considering declaring effective bankruptcy this year or next. A poll of 47 local councils in the North, Midlands, and on the South Coast indicated that the extreme financial strain has led to five of them debating whether to send a section 114 notice of their failure to balance their yearly budget in 2023-24.

Another nine councils that are members of the Special Interest Group of Municipal Authorities (Sigoma) have stated that they may be forced to declare bankruptcy next year.

Sigoma said this was the first time many member councils were considering issuing a section 114 notice, which freezes all non-essential spending.

The growing possibility of drastic action is said to be driven by the depletion of cash reserves available to cover gaps in budgets.

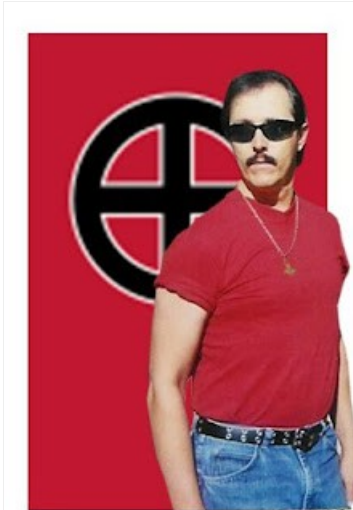

Councils said that the most common source of financial strain was increased demand for children's social care services as a result of the government's desire to prioritise these services alongside adult social care and commit additional cash.

Other key concerns highlighted included inflation expenses and pay increases, with warnings that an impending increase in borrowing costs is poised to put extra financial pressure.

A Government spokesperson said: "Councils are ultimately responsible for the management of their own finances. However, the Government has been clear that local authorities should not take excessive risk with taxpayers' money, and we have established the Office for Local Government to improve the accountability for performance across the sector'

Radical or Moderate:

Two Approaches To White Nationalism -
Seth Tryssen - White Voice March 2018

I'll keep this brief and general. I have to - thanks to the myriad of Draconian laws in the UK and Western Europe that prevent me from speaking the truth bluntly, which is more my style.

"White Nationalism" might be geopolitical or biopolitical. Or both. The first refers to the defense of our people in a given geographical country; the second takes the view that "our race is our nation."

There are moderates and radicals within each approach. Some are "moderate" only because they are restricted by law; so they stew and simmer in anger, but know damn well what the "real deal" is. It's either that or go to prison - as Alfred and Monica Schaefer have done, and many others. Not for committing some violent act mind you; merely for speaking what they believed to be the truth, based on their own extensive research.

Others are radical, and advocate radical solutions to the obvious problems. I freely admit, I fall into the "radical biopolitical" category. My forebears and predecessors here in the Dysfunctional States of America were radical geopolitical in their approach, resulting in the 1st American Revolution. You can be sure it was damn dangerous to say certain things back in the 1700s too. A few brave loud-mouths like Patrick Henry and John Adams took a terrible risk by being so.

IMHO, we face the same risk today. "Free Speech" is a myth - especially in the UK and Western Europe. Over here, I can get away with rather more - for the moment at least ... which is why I also offer a revived version of the Thunderbolt.

Whether radical or moderate', we White Nationalists MUST get along with each other, at least as a publicly "united front." We can dislike (fill in the blank) in private. The survival of our people is at stake, and no matter which approach you choose to take, "the survival of our people is not negotiable."

Nation Revisited: Seth Tryssen collaborated with Eddy Morrison, who was an old-fashioned nationalist, but he believes in European solidarity as passionately as his fellow American Francis Parker Yockey.

Lucy Letby - A Fascist Perspective

You don't need to be a Fascist to have concluded that the recent case of the NHS's mass-murdering nurse deserved a short walk to the gallows following her recent trial & conviction, for others the whole life sentence to be largely served in isolation & misery was sufficient to atone for her infanticidal activities.

I take a somewhat different opinion, for whilst the noose would have indeed being a tempting proposition, cost effective & instant, the cost of feeding & housing Letby in the course of her lifetime will cost the public purse hundreds of thousands of pounds.

Letby deserves to rot everyday & though I am non-Christian, an eternity of hellfire and damnation would be apt, however I contend that the assorted scum serving whole life sentences could actually make some form of compensation by way of their use in medical experiments with the state sponsored use of untested medical procedures and drugs.

I wholly concur with the NBU's Animal Welfare policies and I don't believe that any real scientific knowledge can be gained by the vivisection of defenceless and wholly innocent animals especially given the unlimited supply of psychopaths, rapists, multiple mass killers & paedophiles comfortably ensconced at public expense, real results could be gained in laboratory controlled conditions on people who have not only lost their liberty but undoubtedly deserved to lose so much more.

For while the liberal, the democrat and the Christian may look toward rehabilitation the fact is that most criminals, especially those of a murderous or unusual interest in children not only fail to be "cured" but repeat the same behavioural criminality if & when released.

I further believe that the thought and theory of such experiments once implemented would have a very real impact on those potentially considering such deeds.

I invite readers to reflect on just how much could be learned from such work, a cure for cancer, MS, possibly Alzheimer's or dementia or even Brain injuries. The possibilities are endless.

However I digress, even if such medical proceedings weren't possible, in the Letby case it would even be of public interest to see how her body would react if she were to be injected with weed killer!

Comrade officers!

You must maintain continuous contact with the legionaries. The era of officers being away from their men is over. You must stay with the legionaries, live with the legionaries, assist them, interpret them, even when they can not express themselves, be the editors of their souls, not merely men who give orders.

Obedience must always be prompt, blind, absolute, but today it must also be intelligent. He who obeys must be convinced that it is his duty to obey. In this way your men will be in your hands and you can request of them anything that is necessary. But above all, dear comrades, be an example.

The soldier is reflected in his officer, and the legionary must see his officer as his guide, his teacher, a man who is animated by an unbreakable faith.

You must be the propagators of this absolute dogmatic faith in victory. He who doubts is already a loser preparing to bend his knee before the victor. No one is ever defeated until the day he declares himself defeated. From that day forward there is a loser and a victor; but never before.

Second. Collaboration with our German comrades must be daily, straightforward, loyal, unconditional. Sometimes the differences in language and temperament can be difficult, but we must remember that we are all on the same ship and we want to reach the port of victory together.

Third. I will tell you with the utmost frankness that I do not like those who always calculate what they or others receive. When a legionary does this, he is no longer a legionary, but a mercenary. I am not saying that the necessities of life should not be met, or that we should not think about our families, your families; but comparisons are always odious and perhaps outdated, because inequalities will be remedied."

~ Benito Mussolini (To Four Hundred Officials of the National Republican Guard)

BLACKSHIRT LETTERS

It's an absolute disgrace.

They have turned this country into a complete shit hole, crime rate through the roof, sexual assaults and rapes time and time again being committed by these invaders, our towns and cities becoming no go zones, hotel after hotel being booked for months on end to house them with our money!! Why am I going to work to have part of my wage stolen and given straight to them?? They get given weekly pocket money let me give that to my children. What kind of country is my children growing up into? One where they won't feel safe, where they always come second because nobody stands up for them. Even the right wing political groups do barely f--k all. Patriotic alternative tend to do leaflet drops and litter picks in majority white middle class areas. British movement have lost their touch and only release a podcast and newsletter. Britain first granted they are trying but aren't gaining traction. What needs to happen is to unite the right and make these f--kers know they are not welcome in our land. Stop pussyfooting around them if we're called racist so be it wear it like a badge of honour!!

HUMZA YOUSAF

From his first days in the SNP he was always preaching against it's members actions, as if he has any legitimacy to debate such things. I hate him so much.

The SNP could have been a viable option for White/British/Scottish nationalists to use for challenging the corrupt British parliamentary system and impotent Monarchy in a way no other independence movement could.

It obvious and clear to any Scotsman you talk to, even here in the most foreign-occupied, Liberal, degenerate and traitorous parts of Glasgow that no one voted for him in the leadership election.

We are supposed to believe that the small Green party has an overwhelming sway within the SNP.

If my Scotland ever becomes independent it shall pledge itself to saving it's southern brothers. From his first days in the SNP he was always preaching against it's members actions, as if he has any legitimacy to debate such things. I hate him so much.

Notting Hill Carnival

Last weekend saw the Notting Hill Carnival take place in London. Sadiq Khan praised the event as "the world's biggest and best street party!" However the real truth of the matter is that there were 89 arrests and 8 stabbings!

The most iconic image from the weekend is of a 'youth' wielding what is known as a 'Zombie knife'. And typically, the government response to this violence is to 'ban Zombie knives,' Not a word was said from any mainstream politician about those who were actually carrying out these stabbings!

The week before the carnival, shops and restaurants were boarded up as if business owners were expecting a natural disaster, not a lively event that might bring them business. The Notting Hill Carnival has become a totemic event for those who seek to praise multi-cultural London, but as always, it was anything but peaceful

You don't have to be a genius to figure out what has gone wrong in Britain's capital. London is now just 37 per cent White British. Migration has transformed London and will transform the rest of Britain in a similar manner if we do not stem the numbers coming in.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Followers of Europe Renaissance news stories and memes are legendary commentators on social media; especially VK, Facebook and GAB. Yet rarely do they comment on our platform's news stories.

We welcome Letters to the Editor. Many of our readers have published thought-provoking comments on our news stories. These comments are appreciated by our international readership and in turn attract a response from other readers.

Europe Renaissance is a paid-for (donations) exclusive news platform that faithfully mirrors our readers' beliefs in ethnic-European unity. Our news desk is pro-White and anti-globalist. We enjoy a growing international following and a reach that is equal to much of mainstream media.

It is far more satisfying to be a team player than a reader-spectator. Our readership is a movement that educates, informs and inspires. To maintain this movement, we very much need the support of our reader-supporters.

LEAVE A REPLY: Scroll down to the bottom of each news story. (Excuse the essential advertising). There you will find a box where you can LEAVE A REPLY. This will get your point across to thousands of others.

It is 55 years since I became ACTIVELY involved in political struggle. A myriad of activities from propaganda distribution to rallies, marches, and demonstrations across Europe and America enriched my life: no regrets. I cannot imagine a more unrewarding life than spending over half a century liking memes and reading news stories. Michael Walsh, Europe Renaissance.

The office of far-left Mayor Sadiq Khan has been accused of inciting racism after publishing a guide with a photo of a white family with the text “doesn’t represent real Londoners.”

The mayor’s office removed a series of guidelines on practises for municipal government media publications entitled ‘Look Book - Mayor of London Brand Guidelines’ from the mayor’s official website after it was accused of anti-white bigotry.

A series of guidance on practices for city government media publications produced by the office of Mayor Khan dubbed ‘Look Book - Mayor of London Brand Guidelines’ was taken down from the mayor’s official website after it was accused of anti-white racism.

Despite claiming that the guidance was meant to demonstrate that Khan’s administration seeks to serve “everyone no matter, their age, gender, sexual orientation, ethnicity, religion, disability or family make-up,” the publication went on to display a picture of a young white couple with two white children walking along the Thames with the words “Doesn’t represent real Londoners”.

It went on to say that “the photos we use should reflect a recognisable, real and diverse London.”

Khans’ office has so far refused to apologise, merely telling the Mail on Sunday that the picture’s caption was added by a staff member “in error” and that it “doesn’t reflect the view of the Mayor or the Greater London Authority.” The post has since been removed and a spokesman said that the content is being “reviewed to ensure the language and guidance is appropriate”.

In response to the divisive message, Brexit leader Nigel Farage said: “Sadiq Khan’s London is run by an anti-white prejudice, which could be called racism.”

Trade unionist activist Paul Embury seconded the assessment, saying that it was “straightforward racism. No other way to describe it.”

Conservative London Assembly Member Susan Hall, who will face off with Khan in next year’s mayoral election, has called on the leftist Labour Party mayor to apologise to the public.

“All Londoners are real Londoners, no matter their ethnicity, and Sadiq Khan needs to apologise and stop these desperate, politically-motivated attempts to divide people.”

BOOK REVIEW

Wulf Ingessunu's THE WODEN-CULT: INITIATION INTO THE SECRETS OF FOLKISH ESOTERICISM is now available to order. The book is 150 pages in length and costs just 23 EUROS with free postage to anywhere in the world. Our PayPal address is blackfrontpress@yahoo.co.uk and you can find more details below. We also accept bank transfers. THE founder of Woden's Folk has produced a number of fascinating volumes down the years and this has to rank among his very best. Whilst the group's exoteric work is now undertaken by the Woden Folk-Community, under the direction of Raven and the Hearth of the Hooded Man, Wulf Ingessunu has devoted his energies to the creation of a more esoteric dimension in the style of Guido von List's Armanen-Orden. Having formulated a system in which the thirty-three Ar-Kan Runes form the basis of a radical esoteric order, Wulf sets out to explain how ritual, meditation, visualisation and spiritual exercises must become the focus for those wishing to become part of a dedicated circle of initiates. Not as a passing fad or token rites of passage, but as a spiritual awakening that will take over the entirety of one's life to the point of joining forces with others in a Cosmic War against the Forces of Darkness and Chaos.

How propaganda works

Germany was destroyed because their economic structure was a direct threat to the Rothschilds structure which seeks to profit from the people.

Everything else is propaganda to keep you away from this fact.

Monetary reform was the very essence of National Socialism

As is revealed in the following extracts taken from The Program of the NSDAP, The National Socialist German Workers' Party and its General Conceptions published in Munich in 1932. Adolf Hitler prints its two main points in leaded type:

The Common Interest Before Self - The Spirit of the Program

Abolition of the Thralldom of Interest - The Core of National Socialism.

Once these two points are achieved, it means a victory of their approaching universalist ordering of society in the true state over the present-day separation of state, nation and economics under the corrupting influence of the individualist theory of society as now constructed. The sham state of today, oppressing the working classes and protecting the pirated gains of bankers and stock exchange speculators, is the area for reckless private enrichment and for the lowest political profiteering; it gives no thought to its people, and provides no high moral bond of union. The power of money, most ruthless of all powers, holds absolute control, and exercises corrupting, destroying influence on state, nation, society, morals, drama, literature and on all matters of morality, less easy to estimate.
