Everything's gonna be all White.

Some things have been bothering me lately and I just have to get it out. So I'm sure you have all seen the trailer for the new documentary TV series called, "Everything's gonna be all White." And basically it's the single most racist thing I have ever seen concerning the White race being put on TV for all to see.

The issue for me is that it just seems to me that no one cares about it and people are just letting it go. Sure, I can understand that it could be just another leftist propaganda passing trend that will eventually die out, but what if it doesn't? And if people have the audacity to put this garbage on TV then one has to ask, what else is being propagated for television and media of this nature? And it's a grave offence to the White race and no one cares.

If someone made a TV show similar to that for another race there would be demands for justice, there would be backlash and demands for it to be removed. But for this, for the White race, nothing. No cries for justice, no backlash and demands for it to be taken down, so what is it just "truth" then? And the first line spoken in the trailer is and I'm paraphrasing, "The thing I hate most about White people is when they play the victim." then followed by, "And also when they kill us." Do people understand how harmful that is? Do people see how racist and ridiculous that is?

White people are automatically made to be fake victims according to that statement. Does that mean rape, assault, murder and hate crime victims that are White are just playing the victim then? Does that mean the murders of Cannon Hinnant and Jeremy Mardis mean nothing because they were White? This and many other things portrayed in this documentary series are dangerous talking points to the White race and only promote hatred and racism to the White race.

I hope people see this atrocity and demand its end. I hope people stand up and say that this is wrong and demand that it be cancelled due to its blatant racism. This invalidates the struggles and experiences of White people and makes them into racist monsters. And I will never be for something that blatantly and shamelessly demonizes anyone, period.

LOCAL ELECTION CAMPAIGN

As you will know part of our overall strategy is to stand independent candidates in elections, this is done for a number of reasons and is proving successful so far. This Mays local election will see a high number of members standing, of course we will not publicise names or wards to avoid the attention of the usual tactics employed by the usual enemy. Getting our folk into townhalls across the UK is all that's important not flag waving party politics.

That said I myself will be standing in the Aberdeenshire ward in Scotland which will undoubtedly bring us a lot of attention. Even though I will be independent I am well known as a British Fascist locally. As such the result will reflect the vote NBU could expect if standing as a party. To this end we should make extra effort to get our message out in the ward.

Sadly as always in any level of politics this will require money. The main parties pay to have any number of leaflets delivered by the post office and we must strive to do the same.

Scottish local elections use the Transferable vote system where candidates are voted from first to last choice, voters will need to know where each candidate stands to enable them to do this. Simply put if they don't receive a leaflet from us they will most likely put us as their last choice.

I will of course attend hustings and be afforded a candidates article in the local press but it is of paramount importance that we get a leaflet through the doors of the 3000 homes in the ward. To enable this I am asking members to donate to our election campaign.

We need to raise funds to pay for at least 3000 leaflets and the cost to have them delivered and if possible maybe 6-9000 leaflets. There will be many eyes on the result we get in this ward as it will be a pointer to if we will stand under the NBU banner in the future.

It's not too much to say that our political future will stand or fall by the outcome of this election, the percentage of votes received will determine how we go forward, please donate whatever you can to give us the very best chance to poll as high as possible.

LETTERS

Dear Mr. Raikes,
I'm an Italian young fascist who's planning to move to the UK, since my country has been subjected to a "liberal-communist" dictatorship.

I am very interested to know something about your party, regarding which I wasn't able to find many information online. Are you growing? Is there any chance to see you campaigning at an election in the following years?

With your permission, I would like to share with you some suggestions I've learned from the fascist parties that have failed to get to the power in Italy.

In Italy we have a lot of small fascist parties, but the biggest ones are "CasaPound" (@CasaPoundItalia) and "Forza Nuova". Unfortunately all these small parties are divided because all of them want to be the "protagonist" and they fight each other on stupid little things (for example if we should introduce Catholicism as the official religion of the State or not - that is of course an important point, but that shouldn't be a priority in saving the country's economy). Since there is no unity, there is no enough strength to be elected in parliament and change things.

According to my researches I've found out that even in the UK there is a similar situation: BNP, National Front, Britain First, English Defence League and the New British Union are small, divided and powerless. Some of these parties also refuse to call themselves "fascist", even if they actually are. I would like to suggest you to unite, all together, under the fascist banner. Find just the most important points on which you all agree. The more nationalist ideas should unite you. A stronger economy, safe borders, defending British culture. People care about those values. You can leave aside the wonderful project of Corporatism, even if we all know that would be the best way to secure the most equal rights to the worker class. Remember that even Mussolini have gradually transformed Italy in a corporatist state. He got to power in 1922 and Italy was officially a corporatist nation in 1939. There is plenty of time to discuss about corporatism.

But now there are more urgent problems that could and should unite all the small parties in the UK. We all know that is very difficult, yet is still possible. You just need to find the right leader: someone who has already been in politics (successfully) and is known and trusted by the people.

If you manage to create a strong party that can be trust (you should make it clear that fascism and racism are two very different things), well, I'm sure you'll be able to make a difference in Britain. And I also strongly believe that you should call yourself "Fascist" because that is honesty and also a source of curiosity that drive people's attention to you.

I know you can do it, I believe in you!
Good luck and "A Noi!"

GORDON CALLOW RIP

"A very belated appreciation of Gordon Callow, brave veteran of Union Movement, the NF and BNP, who I have only just heard died in January. Also known as Tom, together with his brother Brian (who later moved to Cumbria & campaigned with me for the EP) he was a stalwart patriot."

NICK GRIFFIN

Tom died in January 2021 at a care home in Southend, Essex. I don't know his date of birth but he must have been in his eighties. His political activities covered a lifetime. He was jailed together with John Bean in 1959 for his part in the St Pancras Town Hall Riot, and, over forty years later, he stood as a candidate for the BNP in the 2002 local election on the Isle of Dogs. He was a brave and determined patriot who never gave up the fight.

John Millican, the author of 'Mosley's Men in Black' writes: "I only met him a couple of times, once at his home in Brick Lane. I think his parents were BU and he told me that they lived just around the corner from the Ilford BU offices."

May he rest in peace.

Why do people feel so threatened and victimised by diversity?

They don't. They are threatened and victimised by the denial of the right to express and live their own culture.

They are threatened by accusations that they are acultural which they are clearly not. They are angry at the so-called "woke" movement which makes things OK for other cultures but not OK for Indo-European cultures. They feel victimised by being blamed for being white (Gods I hate that word) Give me enough time in the sun and I am darker than some people claiming indigenous origin. They are disgusted that someone will get a job not based on merit, but because they are "not white" even though less qualified. The problem is not diversity. I have no problem with diversity, and other ethnic groups do have problems that need to be sorted out, but not at the expense of whites.

You do not gain equality by disadvantaging someone else. You raise them up without pulling anyone else down into what you see as their "rightful place".

Italy suffering the same as UK

In the first four weeks of 2022, the number of migrants arriving illegally on Italian soil has nearly tripled compared to the same period last year.

Italy has seen a surge in migrant arrivals in the first month of the year, according to Italian statistics that show a total of 3,035 migrants arrived in the country, nearly a tripling of the 1,039 who arrived during January of 2021.

Deportations are also a struggle for the Italian government, which has made attempts to find a European Union-wide solution to the problem and allow for faster repatriations of illegals.

Members of the populist League led by Matteo Salvini, which is part of Italy's grand coalition government, have begun to express concerns over the lack of deportations, according to a report from the newspaper Il Giornale.

"The absence of a centralised removal policy of the European Union and the elimination of assisted voluntary repatriations have made any policy of expulsion from Italy fleeting," a League source told the newspaper.

War in Europe

The war between Russia and Ukraine is a tragedy; a war between fellow Europeans that should not have happened. We hope and pray that the peace talks now in progress will succeed.

When the Soviet Union collapsed in 1991 the Russian-speaking population of Ukraine were cut off from the Motherland. This has resulted in the current conflict.

President Vladimir Putin is vilified in the West as a dictator and an imperialist, but he was democratically elected and his support for the Russian-speaking population of Ukraine is only to be expected.

Under the Soviet Union it made no difference if the disputed regions were in Russia or Ukraine because they both belonged to the same political entity. On a smaller scale, it doesn't matter if Monmouth is in England or Wales, or if Berwick-on-Tweed is in Scotland or England, because they are all in the United Kingdom.

The regime of former comedian Volodymyr Zelensky resulted from the coup of 2014 which deposed the elected president Viktor Yanukovich. Zelensky imposed the Language Law which promoted the Ukrainian language over the Russian language and reduced the Russian-speaking population to the status of second class citizens.

The West is sending military aid to Ukraine and waging economic warfare against Russia, but much of Europe is dependent on Russian gas from Nordstream 1, and the UK is the recipient of massive Russian investment. We had a similar performance in 2014 when Crimea was annexed by Russia, but realpolitik prevailed.

The Russian Federation is self-sufficient in food and has massive reserves of gas and oil. Despite sanctions, countries in need of fuel will continue to buy from Russia. The West will encourage the Saudis to increase production but they are unlikely to do so because it would reduce prices.

We should remember that in WW1 the Russians defeated the largest invasion force in history. They are not likely to be beaten by the loss of Starbucks and McDonalds.

10 POINTS OF FASCISM by Oswald Mosley

Patriotism and Revolution FASCISM is a creed of patriotism and revolution. For the first time a strong movement emerges, which on the one hand is loyal to King and Country, and on the other hand stands for far-reaching and revolutionary changes in government, in economics, and in life itself. Hitherto, patriotism has been associated with those who wish to keep things as they are; revolution has been associated with a flabby internationalism which sets the interests of foreign countries before those of Britain. The watchword of Fascism is "Britain First". We love our country', but we are determined to build a country worthy of that love. Things cannot remain as they are: we must have great changes to adapt modern Britain to modern fact. True patriotism finds expression for the first time in the revolution of Fascism. The first necessity of the day is action. Again and again, the people have voted for programmes of action. Again and again they have been betrayed by the existing parties and frustrated by the present system. Conservatives have tried to keep things as they are, and to maintain what they call the stability of the State. For the purpose of resisting change, they have appealed to loyalty and patriotism. But to resist change in an age when change is necessary, is to threaten the stability and safety of the State, and is the reverse of patriotism. Socialists, on the other hand, have talked of progress, but have sought it in the endless discussions of talkative committees. They have rejected and derided the great instruments of leadership and decision by which alone things can be done and progress can be achieved. So their talk of progress has ended in chaos and in flight from responsibility. Fascism combines progress with the executive instruments of loyalty, decision and voluntary discipline, by which alone things can be done and ordered progress can be secured. The true patriotism of Fascism will carry- the changes that are necessary, by principles and by methods which bring change with order and efficiency. HI Fascist Organisation FASCISTS bind themselves together to serve their country' in a voluntary discipline, because without discipline they realise that nothing can be done. The black shirts which they wear symbolise their determination to save the nation. They are not afraid to stand out from their fellows as men dedicated to the service and revival of their country-. The wearing of the black shirt by our more active members break down all barriers of class within our ranks, for all are dressed alike. (The wearing of the Blackshirt is not compulsory.) The salute is the recognition of a brother Fascist who is inspired by the same passionate ideal of national service. Fascism, like every political creed this country has ever known, is common to all great countries, but Fascism is more in keeping with the British character than any other political faith. For the essence of Fascism is teamwork, the power to pull together and to sink individual interests in the service of the nation. This we claim has been the leading characteristic of the British people at every great moment of our history. IV Unemployment and the Modern Problem FASCISM believes that the present world trouble of unemployment is the inability of the people to buy and consume the goods which industry produces. Every day rationalisation and scientific development enable industry to produce more goods with less labour. The power to produce increases, but the power to consume does not increase. In addition Britain is faced with a particular problem because she is the greatest exporting nation in the world. Foreign markets are continually closing against us for the simple reason that other nations are determined themselves to produce the goods which they consume. V The Corporate State Fascism solves the problem of unemployment and poverty by establishing the Corporate State, which will be divided into National corporations governed by representatives of employers, workers and consumers, operating under Fascist government. The State will not attempt to conduct industry as it would under Socialism, instead, the State will lay down the limits within which industry' may operate, and those limits will be the national welfare. Private ownership will be permitted and encouraged, provided such activity enriches the nation as well as the individual. All interests that operate against the nation will be rigorously suppressed. The function of the Corporations will be to raise wages and salaries over the whole field of industry as science, rationalisation and industrial technique increase the power to produce. Consumption will be adjusted to production and a Home Market will be provided by the higher purchasing power of our own people. ¥1 The Export Trade THE export trade will be supported by the Corporate system in the unification of our buying and selling arrangements abroad, which will enable industry to speak with one voice, and government for the first time to support our export trade. Our trade motto will be: "Britain Buys from Those who Buy from Britain" We shall transfer elsewhere our purchases of food stuffs and raw materials if those from whom we buy will not buy from us in return. By these means we will force goods into markets now closed against us until we have built a self contained Empire which makes us independent of foreign markets. VII Fascist Empire We seek to build a Britain as far as possible self contained, and an Empire completely self-contained. We seek to create a great area of the earth with a far higher standard of civilisation than prevails elsewhere, which is immune from the chaos of struggle and collapse. For this purpose Fascism will exclude foreign goods. Tariffs are useless because they tax the consumer without keeping out foreign goods which are the product of cheap slave labour in foreign countries. Within the empire we can produce all manufactured goods, foodstuffs and raw materials which we require. Modern science enables us to do it in abundance, for we have passed from the economics of poverty to the economics of plenty, and great nations can be self contained once they are organised and scientifically protected from the shocks and dislocations of world chaos. Such organisation will help to preserve the peace of this country and the world, for the prime cause of war is the international struggle for markets and raw materials, supported by international finance. A self-contained Empire will be withdrawn from that struggle, and the risks of war will be diminished. Britons will not fight again except in defence of their own homes and empire. Fascist movements now make rapid progress in all the great Dominions, and are federated with the British Union of Fascists in the New Empire Union. VIII Agriculture: A Fascist Three Year Plan FASCISM stresses the importance of reviving the great agricultural industry, which has been betrayed by all parties. At present we produce £280,000,000 per annum of our total food supplies into this country', and we import £220,000,000 worth from foreign countries, and £140,000,000 worth from the Dominions. Under a three year plan. Fascism will nearly double the production of British agriculture by the total exclusion of foreign goods. We can raise home production to £500,000,000 a year, and yet give the Dominions under Fascist government a better market than, they enjoy today. The prices of farming produce must be fixed in advance, and the profiteering middleman ruthlessly suppressed. The higher purchasing power of the industrial worker under Fascism will afford the farmer an economic price for his product and a living wage for his workers. The higher purchasing power of the farming population, when agricultural production is increased, will take the place of our vanishing foreign markets, in buying many of the products of our present export trade. The countryside shall be restored to prosperity, and shall contribute a healthy, virile manhood to build the Greater Britain of the future. IX Aliens & International Finance FASCISM alone will deal with the alien menace, because Fascism alone puts "Britain First." Under Fascism, no alien shall enter this country to take the jobs of Britons, and aliens already here who have abused the hospitality of this nation will be sent back to whence they came. Fascism will deal, not only with the poor aliens who are here seeking jobs; Fascism will deal also with the great alien financiers of the City of London who use the financial power of Britain in the interests, not of this country, but of foreign countries. These men are the real alien menace, for by their foreign investments they are using British money to finance our competitors against us all over the world. The interest on the loans they have made to foreign countries come back to them in the shape of cheap goods which undercut our standard of life and deprive our people of employment Fascism alone will deal faithfully with the alien menace, in whatever quarter it rears its head. X Leadership-Parliament-Liberty FASCISM is the leadership of the nation. It is not dictatorship in the old sense of the word, which implies government against the will of the people. It is dictatorship in the modern sense of that word, which implies government aimed by the people with complete power of action to overcome problems which must be solved if the nation is to live. We seek to achieve our aims by peaceful, legal and constitutional means with the willing consent of the nation declared at a General Election. Fascist Government, however, will at once take power to act by securing from the first Fascist Parliament complete power of action for the Government. Without the power to act and the will to act, nothing can be done. Fascist Government, will use the power given it by the first Fascist Parliament for the reconstruction of the nation. At the end of the first Fascist Parliament, another election will be held, on an occupational and not on a geographical franchise. Men and women will vote within their own industries with a real knowledge of the persons and subjects with which they are dealing. Women who are not in industry will vote as wives and mothers, and will thus be represented for the first time by people competent to speak for the great national interest which they represent. Women will not be compelled to retire from industry, but the high wages of their husbands under the Corporate system will make it possible for them to retire if they wish, and the present competition between men and women in industry will thus be ended. In the new Parliament, every interest and aspect of national life will be represented, but every interest will be subordinate to the welfare of the nation as a whole. Thus a technical and not a political Parliament will be elected to assist Government in the problems of a technical age. Thereafter, the policy and personnel of the Government as a whole will be submitted direct to the people to judge by vote. Government will no longer depend on the intrigues and manoeuvres of conflicting parties, but on the will of the nation directly expressed. Thus the people will retain full liberty to approve or reject the policy of the Government, but a Government so approved and supported will have power to act and to end economic chaos. Fascism declares that the real liberty is economic liberty, and this cannot come until the end of economic chaos. Government cannot end economic chaos without power to act, and that power to act can only come from Fascism. Good wages, short hours, good houses, opportunities for culture and recreation are the real liberty. The mass of the people are being robbed of that real liberty today by the false liberty of a few old men to talk for ever in the present Parliamentary system. Talk and action do not go together, and action is the necessity of today. We will end talk with a new system, in which the whole resources of the nation are mobilised for action. The Blackshirts of Fascism, by their struggle and sacrifice, offer the nation a new leadership and a new road to national salvation.

We ask you to follow that lead through the ending of class war, reaction and chaos, to the building of a Britain worthy of our pride and of our love.
